THE PROGRAM

2023 was another eventful year for eDiscovery case law, with several important rulings and developments that have implications for practitioners and organizations involved in litigation and investigations. In this session, we will review some significant cases and trends on a variety of eDiscovery topics such as preservation, proportionality, sanctions, and dealing with emerging data sources and advanced technologies such as AI, in both civil and criminal cases. We will discuss the key takeaways and practical tips from these cases and trends, and how they can help you navigate the complex and evolving landscape of eDiscovery in 2024 and beyond. Look forward to seeing you there!
