William V. Whelan | Partner & General Counsel

Many lawyers seem to only give the 'legal' answer or just say 'no, you can't do that.' My clients appreciate my giving them pragmatic solutions to their business problems. My goal is to find a legal way to get my clients to where they want to be.

Bill specializes in labor and employment issues, primarily on behalf of management. Bill has extensive litigation experience, including both jury and bench trials. He has successfully handled many wrongful terminations, discrimination, wage and hour class actions, employee compensation cases, and other matters for a wide range of companies. He has also successfully handled partnership disputes, contract cases, non-compete contract claims, trade secret cases, and interference with contractual relations claims. He also advises clients on employment law issues and provides training.
